

Paperwork Needed to Ship a Car Overseas

When shipping a car overseas, you may be wondering what paperwork is required. Miss one document, and you could be dealing with delays, extra fees, or worse—your car stuck in limbo at customs.

Ship Your Car Now makes the process simple. Our team knows the ins and outs, so you don't have to stress. Here's exactly what you need to get your vehicle on the next ship.

What Documents Do You Need?

- Personal Information: Two copies of a government-issued ID (driver's license or passport).
- Vehicle Details: Year, make, model, VIN number, and estimated value.
- Ownership Proof: - If owned: Original vehicle title + one copy. - If recently purchased: Vehicle title + bill of sale. - If financed: A notarized copy of the title + notarized lien authorization (must be mailed, no emails or faxes).
- Shipper & Consignee Info: Name, address, phone number, and email for both the sender and receiver.

Personal Identification

Your shipping company and customs officials need to verify who's shipping the car. Provide two copies of your passport or driver's license. No exceptions.

Vehicle & Ownership Documents

The title proves ownership. Without it, the car isn't moving.

- Owned outright? Bring the original and a copy.
- Recently bought? Add the bill of sale.
- Financed? Get a notarized lien authorization from your lender. This isn't optional—your bank needs to mail it with an original notary stamp.

Shipper & Consignee Information

Customs needs to know where the car is coming from and where it's going. This means providing:

- Full names
- Physical addresses
- Phone numbers
- Email addresses

Other Things to Consider

Shipping With Personal Items? Make a list of what's inside. Ship Your Car Now isn't responsible for personal belongings, but a manifest keeps things clear.

Payment Methods: A credit card works for the deposit, but the final balance needs certifiable funds (cashier's check, money order, wire transfer, ACH, or direct deposit).

Timely Submissions Matter: Late paperwork means late shipments. Send all required documents ASAP to keep things moving.

Get Expert Help

Navigating international shipping alone can be a headache. The good news? Ship Your Car Now has done this thousands of times. Whether you need help with paperwork or want expedited shipping, we've got your back.

Ready to ship? Take the first step and get approved today:

Ship Your Car Now:

https://www.shipyourcarnow.com?utm_source=search&utm_medium=organic